Some of the flock of 4,000 Chinese ring-necked pheasants on the state game refuge preserve on the Downs farm south of Harmon being cared for by Illinois state conservation department employees. Eggs collected hourly from the pens are carefully handled and delivered to the state hatchery at Yorkville where they are hatched in the huge battery of electric incubators. The birds at the Lee county preserve will be distributed to Sportsmen's clubs throughout the state for restocking purpose at the close of the laying season about July 1st.

Illinois Retailers Federation Against Changing Sales Tax

It Says Elimination of Foods From Tax Would Bring Difficulties

Springfield, Ill., April 24.—The Illinois Federation of Retail Associations took a stand today against Governor Green's proposal to exempt foodstuffs from the state two per cent sales tax.

A resolution adopted by delegates to the federation's annual convention declared the exemption would involve "tremendous mechanical difficulties" in segregating taxable and non-taxable items, and that the state would be forced to "increase present tax rates or impose new taxes" to replace the estimated $25,000,000 annual revenue now derived from the sales tax on edibles.

The federation, claiming to speak for 110,000 Illinois retail merchants, also adopted a resolution opposing a general order by the federal government to freeze prices unless the order is made broad enough to include wages, rents and farm commodity prices. The latter resolution declared the federation "strongly protests the issuance of a general price-freezing order unless (1) such an order be applied to farm prices, wages and rents; (2) the 'tag' problem or the differential between buying and selling prices be thoroughly recognized; and (3) unless the licensing provision be equally applied on all factors in production and distribution."

"Would Invite Invasion"

In opposing removal of the sales tax from foods, the federation said the plan would entail "tremendous mechanical difficulties" in segregating and reporting edible and non-edible foods which would not only increase costs of handling but invite evasion."

Suggesting the sales tax might have to be raised on other goods sold at retail, the resolution said "such new taxes or increases in taxes would materially affect taxpayers now endeavoring to shoulder a huge tax burden for the war effort."

The resolution urged Green and the legislature "to explore every means of eliminating the proposal to exempt foods from the retail-

American Motorists Consider Situation in Other War Nations

(By The Associated Press)

American motorists facing gasoline rationing may compare their possible allowances with those of their more-and-less-fortunate fellow drivers:

United States: for 17 eastern States scheduled for May 15, "about 255 gallons a month," or 300 gallons a year.

Canada: Begun April 1, between 360 and 432 gallons a year, depending upon the supply.

Cuba: Begun April 4, one-half of normal.

England: For April, May and June, enough to drive 120 miles a month. After July 1, none except for "genuine need."

Axis and axis-occupied countries: begun long ago, none at all, except on special military allowances.

The War Today!

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE

Events seem to be developing rapidly towards a major showdown between the Japanese and the British in the Indian ocean, and that means a great naval battle.

Japan's control of the eastern Indian ocean, and the danger that this domination may be extended throughout that vast sea, is one of the grave threats to the allied cause. The Middle East, whose shores are washed by the Indian ocean, has been designated by Hitler as the possible meeting ground of the axis forces. Should the Japs and nazis manage to join hands there it might mean a thirty year war.

There are two new signs pointing to a possible "major engagement" in the Indian ocean. One is the indication that the allies may be preparing to take over the strategic French island of Madagascar, which dominates the shipping routes around Cape of Good Hope into the Indian ocean, to keep the Japs from occupying it. The second is a tiny news item which is cryptic but sug-

Government Should Farm Out Much of Its Printing Says Senator Willis

Washington, April 24.—(AP)—Farming out much of the government's printing business to small private plants and the placing of government advertising in newspapers were advocated by Senator Willis (R-Ind) last night.

A former editor himself, Willis told an informal round-table of senators, representatives and members of the national small business conference that small printing plants and newspapers were suffering severely because war priorities had cut advertising revenues, in some cases by two-thirds.

"The government printing office is swamped with orders," he said, adding he believed that 75 per cent of them could be taken care of elsewhere or not filled at all. "The government should use ex-

CIO Head Faces Ouster at United Mine Workers Meet in October

Washington, April 24.—(AP)—Some of the labor movement's best-informed sources were conceding today the inevitability of a showdown between John L. Lewis and his estranged "Right Arm," Philip Murray, culminating not only in Murray's probable displacement as vice president of the United Mine Workers but in an attempt to expel him from membership as well.

Among significant recent developments were these:

Saga of an Heroic Girl Interne Told

Richmond, Va., April 24.—(AP)—The saga of an attractive girl intern who crawled beneath a locomotive, held a flashlight in her teeth and amputated the leg of a railway workman with a borrowed pocket knife was disclosed here today.

Heroine of the story was Marina Diez-Rivas, slender, young brunette from Puerto Rico, who has been on the night ambulance-riding assignment at the medical college of Virginia hospital.

A call came from the railroad yards. Trapped beneath a locomotive, groaning and half-delirious with pain was a yard employee. A big wheel was squarely across his mangled leg.

There was only one way to free him—amputation—and there was only one way to get at it—from underneath the locomotive.

Miss Diez-Rivas crawled under. Lying flat on the gravel, grease and ashes, she went to work by the dim rays of her flashlight with a small hospital scalpel. Heavy muscle and the cramped quarters presented a problem. The scalpel wasn't enough. In desperation she borrowed a big pocket knife and finished the job.

The patient is recovering.

Japanese Puzzled by Silence of Washington on Planes — U. S. Bomber Reported in Siberia

War Nerve Centers of Germany Under Systematic Blasts

RAF Bombers Reported Inflicting Heavy Dam- age on For

By ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

British air raiders, systematically blasting Germany's war nerve centers, set great fires at the German Baltic port of Rostock last night and apparently inflicted heavy damage, the London Air Ministry announced today, while nazi warplanes stepped up the tempo of their attacks on England.

Described as the home of the Heinkel aircraft works, Rostock is a shipbuilding center and a major base for German war supplies flowing to the Russian-Finnish fronts.

A British spokesman said the assault was "heavy and quite successful," with widespread flames sweeping the busy port as the last RAF bombers turned back.

"Four of our aircraft are missing," the air ministry said.

At home, Britons reacted enthusiastically to "ord Beaverbrook's speech in New York last night urging creation of a second front in western Europe.

"This is a chance to bring the war to an end here and now," the British lease-lend coordinator told American newspaper publishers.

"Strike out to help Russia. Strike out violently. Strike even recklessly..."

London comment ranged from the man-in-the-street's jubilant "You tell 'em, Beaver!" to more restrained remarks in informed military circles, and many observers interpreted the speech as symptomatic of a governmental change of heart toward the idea of a European front this year.

More than a dozen Britons were killed in German raids, with the nazi dive-bombing an English southeast coast town at breakfast and pelting a working-class district with high explosives.

On the Russian front, a Stockholm dispatch quoted a Berlin spokesman as asserting that the German 16th army, trapped for many weeks in the bloody Staraya Russa battle sector 130 miles south, had burst through soviet lines and re-established contact with the main German forces.

Soviet dispatches reported that Finnish troops, moved south of Leningrad for the first time, were fighting alongside reinforced nazi divisions in the general Staraya Russa area but declared their counter-attacks were unsuccessful.

A Red army bulletin said Russian troops on the Leningrad front killed more than 1,400 German officers and men in two days and destroyed 12 nazi blockhouses.

In another sector, the communiqué said, soviet forces beat off a series of counter-attacks and "the Germans lost 1,200 men and officers in killed alone."

The shift of Finnish troops to bolster the German armies below Leningrad, away from their own northern battleground, stirred conjecture that Adolf Hitler may be using them as "hostages" to keep war-weary Finland from making a separate peace.

Moreover, German troops are said to have moved recently into the Finnish front.

In the Crimean campaign, where German and soviet armies have been deadlocked for months, dispatches to the army newspaper Red Star reported that Russian troops had captured "The Golden Range," a key nazi stronghold, after four days of heavy fighting.

On the Libyan battle front, British artillery dispersed axis infantry and motor vehicles moving along the coastal sector yesterday but sandstorms prevented any other land operations, the Middle East command reported today.

More Restrictions on Civilian Life Made Public Today

Washington, April 24.—(AP)—Five new restrictions on civilian life have been ordered by the government in the gradual move toward a war footing for the whole nation.

The latest orders curtail local and long distance truck deliveries, restrict the installation of new telephones, reduce the amount of elastic used in corsets and girdles, forbid the manufacture of fishing tackle and fix prices on china, pottery and many cotton products such as sheets, blankets, diapers, towels and gingham.

A summary—Effective May 15 local carriers, including stores, can make no special (one-call-to-a-trip) deliveries except to hospitals and the armed services and can make no "call-backs" or repeated attempts to deliver goods to the same person on the same day.

In addition, local carriers must reduce their other mileage by 25 per cent as compared with corresponding months last year. In the inter-city trucking industry, all trucks must be loaded to capacity on outgoing trips and to at least 75 per cent capacity on return trips, with carriers pooling their facilities wherever necessary.

Telephone Restrictions

Telephones—Hereafter new telephones may not be installed except for persons engaged in direct war work or in occupations essential to public welfare, or unless existing exchange lines capacity can handle them without disrupting essential services.

The Bell System estimated this would result in denial of about 200,000 applications this year for residential telephone service. "Preferred" categories include armed services, government agencies, medical and dental service, newspapers, press associations, common carriers and pipelines.

Prices—Ceilings were placed on the manufacturers' prices of hundreds of china and pottery items and most cotton products now outside price control. The china price ceiling is based on the level of Oct. 1-15, 1941; the cotton ceiling bases prices on those of July 21 to Aug. 15, 1941, and is expected to bring about considerably lower prices than those now prevailing.

Elastic—The amount of elastic fabric which may be used in each corset, girdle, combination or brassiere was ordered reduced by about 50 per cent. Total output of manufacturers was cut by 25 per cent. Total output of manufacturers was cut by 25 per cent.

Fishing tackle—Effective May 31 manufacture of fishing tackle is prohibited. Production of fish hooks may be continued at a rate equal to one-half last year's.

Council of Christian Education Has Meet

The Dixon Council of Christian Education has established headquarters in the office room at 410 First street, which was formerly occupied by the Pontiac sales agency, and use of which has been donated by Dement Schuler.

At a meeting of the campaign committee held at St. Paul's Lutheran church last evening, the aims and purposes of the council were explained by the Reverend Herbert J. Doran. B. Norman Burke and R. W. Ford, and campaign chairman F. A. Hanson outlined completed plans for the financial campaign, which will start May 7.

The next meeting of the council will be held at the Christian church at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening, May 1, and it is expected that every solicitor will attend to receive final instructions.

Smallest of Quints Has Wasting of Right Thigh

Toronto, April 24.—(AP)—Marie Dionne, smallest of the quintuplets, has a definite wasting of the right thigh and calf but there is conclusive evidence of no organic nervous lesion, three physicians reported today following an examination at Toronto Hospital for Sick Children.

Marie came here yesterday to be examined for a suspected muscular atrophy of her right leg from which a tumor was removed by radium treatment when she was nine weeks old. The quintuplets will be eight years old May 28.

Tokyo Seeks Vainly to Draw Information for U. S. Officialdom

Japanese Invaders of Burma Attempting Quick Knockout

(By The Associated Press)

Japan's invasion armies, seeking a quick knockout of allied forces in Burma, have driven within 100 miles of Mandalay apparently in a lightning 80-mile thrust from Loi-kaw, British headquarters disclosed today.

A communiqué said fresh attacks were developing in the Taunggyi area, 100 miles south of the allied base at Mandalay, after capturing three key cities in a new headlong offensive.

Other attacks were reported near Shwepyithar, 10 miles east of Taunggyi.

Taunggyi is 80 miles north of Loi-kaw, the most advanced position previously reported taken by the Japanese in that section of their three-way drive into upper Burma. Loi-kaw fell Tuesday night.

"Reports of both engagements were meager, but matters appear to be progressing satisfactorily," the communiqué said.

Japanese bombers again raided Mandalay.

Meanwhile, Japan, still puzzled about the "mystery base" from which U. S. bombers raided Tokyo six days ago, asserted today that Washington had not yet issued a communiqué on the assault because "it has no way of communicating with the American war planes which attacked Japan."

A Japanese spokesman, Tomokazu Hori, said this meant that none of the raiders had returned to their bases.

While Tokyo thus sought to draw information from Washington, Russia announced that one of the American bombers had made

Treasury Wants 10 Percent of Income

Washington, April 24.—(AP)—Uncle Sam wants the 50,000,000 Americans who get a regular income to put at least ten per cent of it into war bonds.

Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau said in launching the campaign last night that all those who have been earning especially high pay in war industries should put up even more than ten per cent.

Speaking on a Blue Network Buy Bonds program with Morgenthau, Lieut. Edward O'Hare (who got five Jap bombers) reported "from what I've seen of the Japanese I'd say that if we can meet them on anything like even terms, we can beat them."

The treasury announced quotas for each state and territory to boost bond sales to $600,000,000 in May compared with the monthly average of less than $450,000,000 in the last six months of 1941. The quota totals will increase to $800,000,000 in June and $1,000,000,000 in July.

ILLINOIS QUOTA

Washington, April 24.—(AP)—A war savings bond quota of $49,300,200 for Illinois has been fixed by the treasury department, which announced a drive to sell $600,000,000 in bonds in May.

The quota was based on a monthly percentage of bond sales for the July, 1941, to January, 1942, period. The monthly average sales in Illinois for that period were $36,091,571.

Announce Schedule for Collection of Salvage in Dixon

Dixon's Salvage for Victory campaign will officially open Monday morning when salvage dealers will make their first collection of scrap metals, waste paper (tied in bundles), rubber articles and rags. Mrs. Frances Hart, city chairman, has established five zones within the city limits which will be visited by the collectors on a regular schedule and citizens are urged to abide by the schedule to assure rapid collection. The schedules and zones are as follows:

Zone 1—North of Rock river and west of Galena avenue. Collection to be made Monday.

Zone 2—North of Rock river and east of Galena avenue. Collection to be made on Tuesday.

Zone 3—South of Rock river and east of Galena avenue. Collection to be made Wednesday.

Zone 4—South of Rock river and west of Galena to College avenue. Collection to be made Thursday.

Zone 5—South of Rock river and west of College avenue to the city limits. Collection to be made on Friday.

Makes Few Requests

Mrs. Hart has requested that Dixonites tie waste papers in bundles keeping waste and scrap metals and rubber in containers to expedite rapid collection. She specifically urges that no ashes be present in the receptacles used. The containers and bundles of paper may be placed at the curb in front of the residences on the days specified for collection in the zone.

Chairman Hart has announced that the salvage dealers will not collect tin cans, waste paper baskets, fencing, fence wire, coat hangers, wash tubs and boards or buckets and pails.

Citizens will donate any waste materials in the Salvage for Victory program beginning Monday. The salvage collectors will reimburse the committee at the prevailing market price for the scrap and waste materials collected during the week and the entire proceeds will be donated to the city's quota of the $1450 USO fund to provide recreation centers for the armed forces near the many training bases.

Specialist Is Visitor

Rean Kemp, industrial specialist of the bureau of conservation of Washington, D. C., was in Dixon yesterday afternoon meeting with the Dixon Salvage for Victory committee. He told the committee that the salvage receipts were insufficient to maintain the armament program, adding that the large steel mills were operating on an average two-day supply of metal, which if not maintained, would not permit the maintaining of a steady flow of arms, ammunition and equipment to the American armed forces throughout the world. The Dixon committee was

War Declared

London, April 24.—(AP)—A sleepy, remote village in the Herwin mountains of Wales has just gone to war officially with Germany—more than two and one-half years after the rest of Great Britain.

The village, whose name is being withheld, always has been strongly nationalist. Everybody speaks Welsh and the war was a "foreign" one declared by the English in London and the villagers would have none of it.

The other night, however, a German bomber dropped a stick of bombs on the mountain nearby. The roof of the village chapel was riddled. The windows of many houses were blown in and slates flew from the roofs.

Anger flamed in the village. The elders held a meeting and made a formal declaration.

Farm Paper Editor Sees Defeat of Lewis' Scheme to Unionize Farmers

New York, April 24.—(AP)—Defeat for John L. Lewis' attempt to organize dairy farmers is predicted by an agricultural editor who says the CIO-United Mine Workers chieftain, like Hitler, "doesn't want money, but wants the power it will give."

Addressing 100 representatives of farmers, advertisers and business men at a meeting sponsored by the New York Agricultural Association yesterday, E. R. Eastman, president of the American Agriculturist, a farm publication, declared:

"He (Lewis) promised the farmers that all they had to do was sign his union paper and all the milk they produced would receive top prices. This, we know, is humanly impossible and the very bulwarks of American ideals would fall."

"Besides, under Lewis' plan which I have seen, he would take in $20,000,000 annually from the farmers in dues and charge 2 cents per 100 pounds of milk products. Lewis doesn't want the money, but wants the power it will give. Neither did Hitler want the money."

Lewis currently is attempting to integrate the UMW district 50 (by-products division comprising farm workers and other groups) with his union, placing the emphasis on his drive on the six-state New York milkshed.

Five Men Interned by Russ Officials According to Law

Year-Old Treaty Between Japan and Russia is Given First Test

Kuibyshev, April 24.—(AP)—Russia announced today that a United States bomber which raided Japan last Saturday and then lost its way has been interned with its crew in the Russian Maritime province on the Sea of Japan.

It appeared to be an already completed test of the year-old Japanese-Russian neutrality pact but United States embassy officials here said Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley had asked Washington for instructions.

The plane was said to have carried five men, one a captain. The short dispatch announcing the internment said that the airmen, "losing orientation, committed a forced landing on soviet territory." Loss of "orientation" was taken to mean that the plane was trying to make a landing in China.

(The Japanese, identifying the attackers as medium bombers, carrying crews of five, had said that apparently some planes flew on to China.)

The only official, account yet made public was circulated by Tass, official soviet news agency, under the caption: "Forced Landing of American Plane in Maritime Province". The full dispatch follows:

"Khabarovsk, April 22 — On April 18th on the territory of the Maritime province there landed an American warplane. As stated by the plane crew the latter participated on the same day in a raid by the American air force on the Japanese island and, losing orientation, committed a forced landing on soviet territory.

"According to common international regulations, soviet authorities interned the American plane and crew."

The dateline of the dispatch indicated the general locale of the forced landing, although none was specifically given. Khabarovsk is about 1,000 miles northwest of Tokyo and 400 miles due north of the main port of the Maritime province, Vladivostok.

The internment of the fliers offered a delicate problem for the Russians—how to treat a soldier with whom you are allied on one front (the German front) when he enters your territory on another frontier in war against a nation (Japan) with which you are at peace?

There have been many cases in which British and German fliers came down in neutral Eire. The Irish held that their position was clearly dictated by international law, the fliers were interned for the duration. The indications in the present incident were that Russia likewise was following international law to the letter.

(On April 13, only five days before the raid on Japan, the first anniversary of the Russian-Japanese neutrality pact, the organ of the Russian Communist party, the newspaper Pravda, warned Japanese militarists to hew to the line of neutrality.

"It is necessary that the Japanese military and fascist cliques who are dizzy on military successes should understand that their blabbering about war and invasion in the north (the Maritime province) might damage first of all and most of all Japan

Ottawa Laborer Kills Wife; Shoots Himself

Ottawa, Ill., April 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Grace Ator, 39, was beaten and shot to death and her husband, Lowell Ator, 39, was critically wounded early today in front of their home.

Their 12-year-old daughter, Bona, told Sheriff E. J. Welter that her father was intoxicated and shot his wife and himself in a noisy quarrel.

Ator was taken to a hospital. His chin and part of his neck were shot away.

John, 10, the youngest of the six Ator children, also told the sheriff that he saw the shooting. Ator is an employee of the ordnance plant near Wilmington.

No "Bottle-Necks" in Production on Dwight Hartzell Farm

—Telegraph Photo and Engraving

There'll be no slow-down or bottle-necks in production on the Dwight Hartzell farm, three miles west of Dixon. Mr. Hartzell was one of the first farmers in the Dixon trade area to take advantage of the new auxiliary tractor service, now available at the Dixon One-Stop Service, 106 Peoria avenue.

Under this plan, the Dixon One-Stop Service furnishes an auxiliary tractor for $5 a day (five-day limit), making it possible for producers to have their own tractors repaired, while busy in the fields, or avail themselves of additional tractor power.

Above is a scene on the Hartzell farm, recorded Tuesday by a Telegraph photographer, shortly after the Dixon One-Stop auxiliary tractor had been delivered to the farm to pinch-hit for Mr. Hartzell's own Allis Chalmers, which was in urgent need of repairs.

In the foreground can be seen the auxiliary tractor, with Mr. Hartzell standing in front, and with Buel Baker and John Hartzell at the steering wheel. Directly behind the auxiliary tractor is "Woody", Dixon One-Stop Service tractor man, seated on the Hartzell tractor, which had just been driven onto the special conveyor, for return to the Dixon One-Stop Service garage at 106 Peoria avenue.

In the background can be seen the feeding lot on Mr. Hartzell's farm, which at present is filled with feeding cattle and hogs. Neil Howell, manager of Dixon One-Stop, points out that auxiliary tractor service is available to everyone, whether or not they own Allis Chalmers equipment. He adds that, according to present indications, many producers in this area expect to avail themselves of this outstanding service.

He urges everyone interested to call the Dixon One-Stop and reserve dates on which they desire this tractor, to avoid last-minute developments.—Adv.

Radiator Manufactory
Virtually Closed by Restrictions of WPB

Dunkirk, N. Y., April 24—(AP)

The Dunkirk plant of the United Radiator Corporation, employing 150, virtually suspended all operations today in the face of government wartime restrictions on plumbing and heating equipment. Plant Manager C. E. Weir said the company would seek war orders in an effort to resume operations as soon as possible.

The Dunkirk plant, which last summer employed 275, is one of the country's oldest manufacturers of radiators, and has been engaged in the production of heating equipment exclusively.

The company also operates plants at Edwardsville, Ill., Waukegan, Ill., Detroit, West Newton, Pa., Bristol, Pa., and Geneva, N. Y.

A Thought for Today

For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom.—Matthew 24:7.

Neither is money the sinews of war as it is trivially said.—Francis Bacon.

A Challenge to Hitler

It is with deep regret that most Americans consider the possibility of facing the French in a shooting war.

The military aspect—the strengthening of Hitler's naval resources—has been stressed. It is important. But today, as Pierre Laval's resurgency makes armed conflict between Frenchmen and Americans appear imminent, we should like to indulge in a final spurge of sentimentality.

Of all the earth's peoples, until recently one would have said that the French were the last we should have to shoot, bomb and attempt to destroy in defense of fundamental democracy.

Nowhere, we believed, did the love of liberty, equality and fraternity flourish more vigorously and even beligerently than in France.

No nation had contributed so much to the establishment and preservation of democracy in the United States.

Millions of young Americans, now in the prime of life, fought in and for France less than a quarter of a century ago, and came home convinced that in all future world alignments we and France would stand side by side.

Those who realized the essential offensiveness of Germany thought of France as democracy's Maginot Line, which would hold until her democratic allies could come to the rescue.

That, of course, is the key to the sad situation we face today. We counted too much upon that Maginot Line, literally and figuratively. When it broke—when the actual fortifications proved incapable of making up for the moral strength and national unity France had lost—the rest of us were caught unprepared.

So now we see our traditional friend and ally beaten, dismembered, ravished, forced at gun's point to become the military ally of her and our bitterest enemy.

When and if Laval completes the sale of his country, even to the extent of turning the French navy over to German crews and permitting the use of French naval bases by the Nazis, we shall have to lay aside this sentimentality and treat all of France as a part of the Reich.

But first, there can be no harm in remembering that for most Frenchmen, this alliance with Hitler is not even a matter of expediency. It rests upon bitter compulsion.

Probably the average Frenchman hates Hitlerism worse today than before Dunkirk.

There is reason to believe that the French public, as a whole, desires an Anglo-American victory so wholeheartedly that our bombing of even their beloved Paris does not arouse resentment, since it is an act of initiative against the Nazis.

The French, as a race, have not changed in their love for democracy. The senescent Pétain, the anglophobe Darlan, the fascist Laval may let them down, and place them nominally on the side of Hitler. Their fleet and their bases may be used against us.

But here's a challenge for Der Fuehrer: Does he dare today to raise a French army, equip it with tanks, artillery and planes, and take his chance on which side it would fight?

The Inevitable Deferred

News that Pierre Laval has been restored to power in Vichy is most unpleasant, but should not come as a surprise.

For some time there have been indications that German pressure was forcing the senile Pétain and the Anglophobe Darlan toward complete military collaboration with the Reich. Insiders in Washington and in London have realized that the wooing of Vichy by our State Department could do no more, at best, than defer the inevitable.

Before long Hitler probably will have free use of the still powerful French navy and of insular bases thus far denied to him. Our old headaches will be aggravated and we shall have new ones. But better now than a year ago, or six months, or three, or even one. Every day we grow stronger, militarily. The Hull diplomacy was a good job, well done.

Shortage of Seawater!

It will come as a surprise to many, who had heard about Alcoa's monopoly (until recently) in the production of aluminum to learn that about 43 per cent of this continent's output it made in Canada.

Notwithstanding the huge expansion in American extraction of the light metals, we are told that still we need more aluminum and more magnesium from the Dominion.

As for the aluminum, this is understandable. With our enormous plane program, there is almost no limit to our requirement. But why can't we produce all the magnesium we want? A bathtub full of seawater contains more than seven pounds of the metal, and there is visible scarcity of seawater hereabouts.

Let's Have Those Books

The Victory Book campaign's slow start must be attributed to public inertia rather than apathy. It is not conceivable that civilians, living comfortably at home, either can not or will not give the books with which soldiers and sailors can while away lonely hours.

There can't be many families who would have trouble providing at least a few novels and some readable and worthwhile books of non-fiction whose departure never would be noticed.

What you hear never sounds as important as what you overhear.

If scientists are still trying to break the atom, they might try letting congress tax it.

FRANTIC WEEKEND

BY EDMUND FANCOTT

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Just after the weekend guests at Ferd's Lorton's Canadian country place learn that one of the party, Fay Ransom, is a famous Broadway night club singer, young Peggy Black, the figure of a man in the moonlight. Her brother Michael, Nigel Monksome and Ferd bring him in. He turns out to be Baldy Brien, Fay's manager, who has come to take her back. Ferd, his aunt, and the other sister Myra are unconcerned. But Michael and Nigel are both in love with Fay. And Peggy has plans of her own.

"I JUST RAN AWAY"

CHAPTER IX

"YOU must be very clever," said Peggy admiringly, ignoring Myra's questioning eye.

Baldy Brien almost purred and was just about to expand again on Peggy got in first.

"Would you be my manager?" Baldy stared at her. "Listen, baby, I'm in the show business, not running a girls' school. Run away. When you get your name in neon same place I'll come and listen to you, but I'm in it for dough—dough for me, and dough for them that can make it. I ain't a charitable organization."

Peggy looked at him with infinite scorn. "Sucker!" she said. "And I swallowed your line. Why, you couldn't see talent if it was pushed down your throat!"

Baldy started, surprised at this sudden attack. Then he bristled. "You're right, dead right, and I can't see it now."

He turned to attack Fay again and looked around the room in surprise. Fay had gone, so had Ferd, Michael and Nigel.

"Where are you staying?" asked Ferd's aunt quietly, realizing it was already late and that there were no hotels within many miles.

"Thanks very much," said Baldy. "That's kind of you, lady. I was going to take my forty in the back of the car, but if you insist, I gladly accept your invitation."

"I'm sure my nephew will enjoy you," said Ferd's aunt, after her first surprise at his self-identification. "He has such strange ideas anyway, it will serve him right."

Baldy looked quickly at her but she was knitting placidly.

Out in the moonlight, incomparably peaceful in contrast with the recent minutes indoors, the three men and Fay were sitting on the wharf. One by one they had slipped out while Baldy was holding the door and had wandered down to the quay.

The three men were smoking. "Now I know," said Ferd suddenly. "Why you left New York."

"I wonder," said Fay. The moonlight cast soft shadows in the night. The air was warm. "Sometimes you do something suddenly and you don't care whether it is right or wrong. You only know that you must do it."

"But I don't understand it all," said Nigel slowly.

Fay laughed, a low soft laugh. A fish splashed somewhere out on the lake.

"Neither do I. It seems so quiet and peaceful here... after living so long in New York."

Michael interrupted. "But New York—singing with a band like Johnny White's—you haven't given it up?"

Fay laughed. "I haven't exactly given it up. I just ran away."

"Yes, Baldy is right. I had everything a girl could want. Everything a million girls would give their eye teeth to get—and I ran away."

"You're going back?" asked Michael and there was a touch of wistfulness in his voice.

"I don't know," Fay's voice came slowly, and in the pause that followed the eyes of all three men rested on her.

ALL three were thinking the same thing—that here in the moonlight they wouldn't have minded staying silently for hours, just looking at her face as it was at that moment. It wore the lovely sadness of one who has seen every dream come true with a succession of miracles and then watched them all turn to dust and tinsel.

Then she shook her head and laughed lightly, throwing her thoughts away from her.

"I'll tell you. When I first began to be noticed it was wonderful, intoxicating. There was the applause, the praise—and money came easily. Then my agent told me the time had come to have a manager to build me up and he introduced me to Baldy Brien. He talks too much but he really is as straight as they come, according to his lights."

"What happened then?" asked Nigel.

"First you have a manager, then you have a press agent. Then you have to compete with Hollywood in hair, face and dress. You have to be a glamor girl. That means a dresser, it means endless hours for fittings, hair dressing, massage, voice lessons. It all costs money, and the one that earns it has to pay."

"First you are rich on fifty a week and it is all your own except the agent's cut. Then you go up to seventy-five and a hundred. By that time you find you have about forty left for yourself. Then it goes up to a hundred and fifty. By this time you have thirty-five for yourself. By the time it gets to two hundred you have twenty-five left and a horde of people with their hands held out." She sighed and paused for breath.

"But that isn't all," Fay continued. "Your agent, your manager, your press agent, your maid all want to earn their money and they all find things for you to do. They endorse this or that product for you and you have to get up early after working all night to pose for photographs for advertisements. The telephone begins to ring all day. This and that paper want photographs, some amateur has an idea for a series, somebody knows the nicest man who wants to meet you. Then there are rehearsals for new numbers and all the time you are earning more and more, and bigger people are taking bigger and bigger cuts."

A chuckle came from Ferd. Fay looked at him and felt that he understood. She went on, encouraged by the darkness and the silence of the men.

"You want to sing real songs and all the time you are plugging numbers that sound like every other number, all for half a dozen people who are interested in making money out of them. And all the time you feel you want to sing real songs. Then suddenly one morning the sun shines through your window and it is Spring for everyone except you, and you realize that you are just a glamorous fly in a vast web with hundreds of spiders after you."

Fay looked at him and felt that he understood. She went on, encouraged by the darkness and the silence of the men.

Service Stickers for Homes of Boys in Ranks Are Here

Can Be Secured at Telegraph Office As Long as Supply Lasts

Representative Dennis J. Collins of DeKalb has sent The Telegraph a consignment of Illinois service men's stickers to be given residents of Dixon having sons in any branch of the service, who may receive them upon application at The Evening Telegraph office. Additional stickers will be obtained when the present limited supply is exhausted.

Governor Dwight H. Green forwarded the stickers to Representative Collins a few days ago and the latter placed a supply in Dixon at The Telegraph office today for distribution. Accompanying each sticker is a letter from Governor Green which reads as follows:

To the families of Illinois men in the armed services:

"Our country was founded upon sacrifice, and brave men gave their lives and fortunes to win our liberty."

"The heritage thus won has been preserved by toil and battle, and by never forsaking the ideals of unselfish patriotism and worthy citizenship. Time and again, down through the years, the valor of the American people has been tried. Never has it been found wanting."

"We face the utmost test of war once more. Men of Illinois, true to the state's glorious military tradition, are standing to arms again. In our army, navy, marine corps, flying forces and their auxiliaries they are valiantly upholding the flag which does not know defeat."

All Seek to Do Part
"Patriotism burns in every American heart. We all seek to do our part, but the fighting men who form the lines facing the foe are offering the supreme service."

In official recognition, I send you this Silver Star of Service in token of the fact that a man from your household is serving in our nation's armed forces. By its display, you can proclaim the pride that you, too, must feel in having a full share in the victory which will be ours."

On the back of each sticker, designed especially for, and officially presented to the families of the Illinois men in our country's armed forces, is the following brief message from Governor Green:

"This Silver Star of Service proudly signifies the fact that this home has sent a man to fight for American liberty; to defend all that we hold dear, and to uphold the honor of our state and nation."

"In sending it to you, I hope you will display it as an emblem of the pride you must feel in having a great share in the victory which will be ours."

"Dwight H. Green, Governor of Illinois."

Traffic Resumed Through Oregon Following Wreck

Traffic on the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy line through Oregon was resumed this morning after having been tied up since 3:40 o'clock Thursday afternoon by the derailment of 13 cars of a fast west-bound merchandise train in front of the Oregon passenger station. The wreck occurred when a gondola jumped the track. The forward coupling held and the gondola tore up rails and ties for a distance of approximately 2,000 feet before the train could be brought to a halt.

The platform was torn from the Oregon station as 12 cars piled into the first derailed car and came to a sprawling rest along the right-of-way.

The westbound Zephyr was rerouted through Davis Junction over the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific lines this evening. Other trains were being routed around Oregon over a siding.

Children's Meeting—Children of the Church are to meet at St. Paul's Lutheran church at 2 p. m. Saturday. Children between the ages of four and ten are invited.

More than half the population of New York state is concentrated in New York City.

Apple Trees Blossom—Springfield, Ill., April 24.—(AP)—The apple trees are blossoming in Calhoun county and state park officials said today that the annual floral display should be at its height by May 1.

Thousands visit the strip of land between the Mississippi and the Illinois rivers each spring when the hills are covered by the apple blossoms.

332 SEEK PAROLES—Springfield, Ill., April 24.—(AP)—The state division of correction announced today that the state parole board would hear parole applications of 332 convicts in Illinois prisons on the May dock-et.

Subcommittees will begin hearings at the prisons April 27.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc., reproduction in whole or part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, April 24.—When Mr. Roosevelt tried to push the word "inflation" out of the dictionary, as a descriptive term for our current economic predicament, he really had a new conception of a remedy, if not of the problem.

Advance notices of his intentions around in the government suggest he has conceived a new economic freezing apparatus.

He would freeze prices first, all prices. Then instead of trying to freeze union wages to that index he would tie them to a cost of living index, but not directly, only loosely, through the War Labor Board.

In other words, he would merely order the War Labor Board not to grant any more increases in cases brought before it, unless the cost of living index rises.

The administration figures this would prevent any union wage increase cases for ever getting to the board, as long as the cost of living remains the same as the base period, between February 25 and March 25.

Other salaries would not be fixed but the argument for increasing them generally would be frozen by the action on the cost of living.

The cost of living index, of course, is based on the prices of rent, light, bread, food, clothing and some other items, and not upon the general price level which may or may not fluctuate the same.

Farm prices would likewise be handled on this tie-freeze basis, without direct action, by the initial step of freezing the price a farmer can charge for his bread or a butcher for pork chops, etc.

It is figured that the limitation on bread will be an automatic restraint on the price of wheat and the freezing of pork will show a hold corn-hog prices, etc., on through the farm commodity list.

The political advantages of all this primary part of the plan, from the administration standpoint, lie in the fact that it is not proposed actually to freeze wages or farm prices themselves, but to get at them indirectly.

There are other political aspects. In the discussion stage is an idea of confiscating all big wages above a certain amount, say $25,000 or $50,000. It would not bring in much revenue, but it would be popular with the labor and farm groups.

Another feature of the plan would confiscate all profits above 6 per cent beyond all existing and proposed business taxes, but this has once been turned down in congress.

The whole plan is subject, of course, to congressional approval. Another thing: It seems now that when Price Fixer Leon Henderson and Vice President Wallace surrendered to Treasury Secretary Morgenthau, there was an understanding that the voluntary method of raising money for the war would be continued beyond a few months only if it works, that is, only for a trial period.

Henderson and Wallace apparently were content to wait. Morgenthau intends to fool them by making it work.

Willkie ran away with the publicity honors of the compromise adopted by the Republican national committee in Chicago, but the opposition claimed a majority of the committee.

The senate cloakroom is comforting itself with the information that Willkie had only 15 committed votes at an advance meeting in New York. He had more than bare one-sixth of the 96 committeemen at Chicago, but the Washington boys think Taft would have won on a showdown by about 55 to 41.

Where Willkie stole the show was not in the voting, but in the advance planning. He pulled no surprise on the senators. Before the meeting word came down he had decided to vote for Taft.

But it was just good patriotism, politics or sense from either his standpoint or theirs to start a row, as Willkie well knew. Thus he had his opponents in a position where they were willing to give more than he did in a resolution pledging only post-war leadership of the world for the purpose of liberty and opposition to warfare.

In this conflict, both Willkie and Taft were running like lead horses for 1924, and this was the most important aspect of the matter.

The resolution was written for the purpose of the coming congressional elections in which each individual candidate will run on his own platform anyway. The 1944 presidential nominating convention will determine the policy of that race.

And where was Dewey in the conflict—nowhere in sight. He has not shown up yet, but certainly will when he runs for governor of New York state next fall.

Vast Second Front Against Germany Is Beaverbrook's Plea

British Publisher Is Blunt and Frank in Address to ANPA

New York, April 24.—(AP)—Creation by Great Britain of a vast second front against Germany in western Europe while Russia still holds the Nazis in the east is urged by Lord Beaverbrook in the belief Russia "may settle the war for us in 1942."

The British lease-lend coordinator in Washington declared last night that "by holding the Germans in check, possibly even by defeating them, the Russians may be the means of bringing the whole axis structure down."

Addressing the American Newspaper Publishers Association's Bureau of Advertising at its annual dinner, Beaverbrook, himself publisher of the London Daily Express and the Evening Standard, said of the proposed great British offensive:

"This is a chance, an opportunity to bring the war to an end here and now. But if the Russians are defeated and driven out of the war, never will such a chance come to us again."

"Strike out to help Russia. Strike out violently. Strike even recklessly, but in any event such blows that real help will be our share and contribution to the Russian battlefield."

Expressing belief in the Russian theory that the best form of defense is attack, he called upon Britain to "adopt it by setting up somewhere along the 2,000 miles of coastline now held by the Germans, a second front in western Europe."

Blunt, Frank Detail

Beaverbrook spoke from the same platform as Francis B. Sayre, U. S. High Commissioner to the Philippines; Admiral Ernest J. King, Commander-in-Chief of the U. S. Fleet, and others at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel dinner closing the ANPA's 56th annual convention.

In blunt and frank detail, the British publisher disclosed for the first time just how close his homeland was to disaster in the early stages of the war before the United States gave both barrels to its war effort against the axis.

"It was just two years ago," he said, "that we lost everything we possessed, save only our soldiers. We had to begin all over again. Nothing left to use but a portion of our army. All the weapons gone. The cupboard bare. Not even a rifle."

"Guns we lost in thousands, vehicles by the fifty thousand. Almost all our tanks and many airplanes, x x x x"

"But the biggest disaster was our naval losses. Forty-seven warships were sunk in the operations off Norway and Dunkirk. And when the evacuation was over, half our destroyer fleet lay awaiting repairs in our shipyards."

"Hardly had we emerged from this peril when we were called upon to fight the battle of Britain. And I must tell you that when that struggle began we had in reserve only five fighter aircraft in the storage units."

Flower Show to Be Brilliant Event of May

The Garden Club of Illinois, Inc., a federation of 150 garden clubs throughout Illinois, with a total membership of approximately 10,000, will present its sixteenth annual Chicago Flower Show, May 14-17, at Thornhill Farm, adjoining the Morton Arboretum, three miles south of Glen Ellyn. It will be the first large flower show staged outdoors in this country.

For the past ten years, the Chicago Flower Show has been given at Navy Pier, late in March, and plans were well underway for the 1942 exhibition, when Navy Pier was taken over by the government for aviation activities.

Mrs. O. W. Dynes, past president of the National Council of State Garden clubs and general chairman of the Chicago Flower Show for the past several years, canvassed every possibility in Chicago for another site for the show, but all were unsuitable or inadequate.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, daughter of Joy Morton, founder of the Morton Arboretum, and granddaughter of J. Sterling Morton, the originator of Arbor Day, together with her brother, Sterling Morton, offered the use of the half-mile driveway at Thornhill Farm, the estate of the late Joy Morton, as the site of the 1942 Chicago Flower Show.

The driveway was planted 30 years ago in sweeping tree groupings, and is near the peak of plant perfection, with great boughs dipping to form perfect bays, ideal for the planting of individual gardens. Forty-six of these gardens have been planted by member clubs.

Exhibits of flower arrangements, potted plants and cut flowers will be on view in various tents, and special lighting will add to the effectiveness of the show at night.

The outdoor Chelsea show in England has been famous throughout the world for many years, and widespread interest is centered in this country's first outdoor flower show of national importance.

Tickets may be purchased for 50 cents, before May 14.

91ST YEAR

Mrs. Marie Klock, Polo's only surviving Civil War widow, will celebrate her ninety-first birthday anniversary on Friday, May 1. She is the widow of Martin Klock, whose death occurred in 1910.

Mrs. Klock was born May 1, 1851, in Oswego, N. Y., and came to Illinois with her parents at the age of four. Her father, Peter Kenyon, was a stone mason, and his first job in Polo was assisting with construction of the Presbyterian church. It was in the basement of that church that Mrs. Klock first attended school, there being no school house in Polo in that early day.

Mrs. Klock is a life-long member of St. Mary's church and the Altar and Rosary society, and is also affiliated with the Woman's Relief corps.

BRIDGE-LUNCHEON

Members of a Thursday club concluded their bridge play for the season yesterday afternoon, as guests of Mrs. Carl Buchner, Sr., who was entertaining at luncheon at The Coffee House, before forming tables for contract at the Buchner home. Mrs. Harry Stephan held a guest tally in the afternoon's card games in which score favors were won by Mrs. Harold Emmert, Mrs. Grover W. Gehant, and Mrs. Harry Hintz.

Next Thursday afternoon, the club members will meet at the home of Mrs. Henry Hey, to resume work on an afghan which they are knitting for the American Red Cross.

Maybe your chances of buying a new car are better than you think

Here's clarifying information about the rules on the purchase of new automobiles—and how you can get one if you are eligible.

MORE people are entitled to buy new automobiles under Government rationing regulations than may have been generally realized.

Indeed, if you are eligible to buy a new car, and continue to drive an old and inefficient model, you may actually burn up more gasoline, consume more oil and wear out tires faster than is desirable in the interest of conservation of critical materials and supplies.

The principal groups eligible for the purchase of new cars are as follows:

1. Physicians, surgeons, visiting nurses, veterinarians and regularly practicing ministers of a religious faith, when their cars are used for professional purposes.
2. Persons engaged in fire-fighting services, police services, public health services, mail services or highway construction and maintenance of equipment when cars are used in direct line of duty.
3. Persons furnishing transportation to the public, when the purchase is required in the interest of public safety and convenience.
4. Persons engaged in the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly, including executives, engineers, technicians and workers. Such cars must be used in transportation to or from or within factories, power plants, transportation or communication facilities, farms, lumber camps, mines, military or naval establishments, when the work done in such place of employment is essential, directly or indirectly, to the prosecution of the war.

5. Persons transporting produce and supplies to and from a farm when applicant does not own or possess a truck or other practicable means of transportation.
6. Traveling salesmen, when the car is required in selling foods and medical supplies or machinery and equipment to farms, factories, mines, oil wells, lumber camps or similar productive establishments.
7. Persons delivering newspapers, when the car is required for wholesale delivery.

The first step in getting a car is to fill out the proper application form, which we will be glad to obtain for you.

It is then necessary only to demonstrate to the local rationing board that your need for a car is bona fide to get a "certificate of purchase" entitling you to immediate delivery on the model of your own selection.

If you have any questions about your eligibility after reading the above list, we will be glad to answer them for you to the best of our ability.

If you're eligible...let us help you

Russia's action appeared to be an already completed test of year-old neutrality pact between Tokyo and Moscow, but U. S. embassy officials in Kuibyshev said Ambassador Admiral William H. Standley had been informed of the circumstances and had asked Washington for instructions.

Russia is still technically at peace with Japan, and Tokyo newspapers stressed that fact along with the hope that friendly relations between the two countries might be strengthened through "Russia's better understanding of the Greater East Asia war".

Newspaper Comment

"There is no reason why Japan and Russia should quarrel", said the newspaper Asahi.

Other Tokyo comment asserted that "Britain and the United States have little chance to pit Russia against Japan".

Tokyo's nervousness over relations with Russia stems in part from the extreme vulnerability of Japan to bombing and submarine attacks based at the soviet port of Vladivostok, only 680 miles across the Sea of Japan from Tokyo.

So long as Russia and Japan remain at peace, U. S. warplanes would be prohibited, legally, from using Vladivostok or other soviet bases to attack Japan.

Other Developments

Other developments in the Far Pacific war included:

Burma—Capture of three key cities by Japan's armies sharpened the crisis for British-Chinese forces today, but British military quarters said British troops falling back from Taunggying had straightened the sagging allied line "most skillfully".

These quarters said the retreat of Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell's hopelessly outnumbered Chinese troops from Pymnana, 150 miles south of Mandalay, had compelled the British to withdraw from Tangdwingyi, 40 miles to the northwest.

Loikaw, capital of the Burma Karen-Ni states, 65 miles southeast of Pymnana, was the third key allied city to fall to the invaders in the new all-out Japanese offensive.

Japanese forces, bolstered by fresh, rested troops and commanding an overwhelming superiority in planes and tanks, were reported hurling all their strength into the battle in an attempt to break through the Mandalay before the drenching monsoon rains begin in south and central Burma.

Australia—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that allied warplanes heavily bombed the Japanese base at Rabaul, New Britain, blasting barracks, warehouses and shipping and machine-gunning Japanese troops.

Five Men Interned

herself", Pravda's editorial said. Reds Technically Neutral (Tokyo's morning papers reviewed relations with the soviet union today, expressing belief they would remain harmonious. The timing suggested that the incident of the United States plane might have inspired the comment.)

(Under the Moscow-Tokyo pact, Russia is technically neutral in the Pacific war, just as Japan is technically obliged to keep hands off the German-Russian struggle. Neutral nations are required to intern war parties which stray into their territory. To do otherwise would offend the opposing forces. Such internees are universally treated with courtesy.)

(Washington spokesmen have never confirmed official Japanese declarations that United States planes took part in the raids on Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Kobe Saturday. Silence was maintained also upon the Tass announcement.)

(State department officials said they were withholding comment pending receipt of a report from the U. S. embassy in Russia.)

F.D.R. BANTERS WITH PRESS

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Bantering with the press over Japanese reports of an American air raid on key Japanese cities last Saturday and word from Moscow that one of the participating planes had been interned in Russia, President Roosevelt continued today to withhold any confirmation from this government.

But he did say he had received an official communication from Moscow regarding the internment of the plane.

"The Russian announcement tends to confirm the Tokyo reports", a reporter remarked. Smilingly, Roosevelt retorted that that did not require any answer because it was not put in the form of a question.

To a question whether the plane that landed in Siberia would become a lend-lease craft, the president replied only that he had read that it would be officially interned. He said he assumed when a ship was interned it was immobilized and he merely laughed when asked whether it would be interned on the Kalinin front, which faces the Germans.

American Farmers Will Be Advised to Reduce Crops

Washington, April 24 (AP)—Although much of the world is starving, war curtailment of foreign trade and a record surplus of wheat in this country soon will lead Secretary of Agriculture Wickard to advise American farmers that they must reduce production further or be content with lower prices.

The forthcoming bread-grain crop and the carryover from previous years are expected to provide a supply greater than this country's transportation and storage facilities can handle. Officials predict that the supply will be sufficient to meet the normal needs of the country for two years.

On the other hand, virtually the whole of Europe—particularly German-occupied Belgium, France, the Netherlands, Greece and the Balkans, as well as Italy and unoccupied France, and Spain—are on short bread rations. Germany itself is running short of supplies. Europe normally depends upon overseas sources for much of its wheat.

Because storage facilities are already crowded with surplus wheat, corn and other grains from previous crops, the department expects an acute problem to develop when the new wheat crop starts moving to harvest in the southwest in June. Estimates have been made that upwards of 75,000,000 bushels may have to be piled in fields or placed in improvised bins on farms.

At Lowest Permissible Point

The agriculture department set this year's wheat production goal at the lowest point permitted under the crop control act. This legislation specifies that the national planting allotment for wheat may not be less than 55,000,000 acres. In the past as much as 80,000,000 acres have been seeded.

Wickard is expected to ask congress to amend the law to permit a planting goal of 50,000,000 acres or less next year. His plans in this connection may be announced in a speech he is scheduled to make before a meeting of wheat farmers at Enid, Okla., in April 28.

Because of shortages of farm labor, machinery and equipment, and the strain being placed on transportation facilities by the war program, aides said Wickard believed it was not in the public interest for farmers to continue the production of more wheat than can be disposed of.

The secretary is expected to tell the Enid meeting that the government no longer feels it to be good public policy to maintain programs designed to provide farmers with full parity price returns from the production of 55,000,000 acres of wheat. They are assured such a return this year, providing they approve rigid marketing quotas at a nationwide referendum to be held on May 2.

gests huge possibilities.

This latter is the report in French Vichy that a powerful British flotilla, including a battleship, has passed through the Strait of Gibraltar into the Mediterranean. There is no satisfactory explanation of where these fighting ships are going, and it must be admitted that there are several missions on which they might be bent. Still, in view of the emergency in the Indian ocean one can't help feeling that this flotilla may well be taking a short cut through the Mediterranean and the Suez canal to help deal with the Japanese fleet.

British Premier Churchill told the House of Commons on April 13 that the Nipponese had in the Bay of Bengal at least three battleships, five aircraft carriers, a number of heavy and light cruisers and several flotillas of destroyers. And that is a formidable fleet.

We have no exact check on the British naval force under the famous Admiral Sir James Somerville in those waters, but it's smaller than the Japanese. However, should the mystery flotilla now plowing through the Mediterranean be on its way to reinforce Somerville, it might mean a sufficient leveling off of relative strength so that the British would challenge the Japanese.

British reinforcements also would be necessary in event the allies do occupy Madagascar. Most allied military experts have been praying that the operation would be carried out before the axis could take over this great island. If it were in the hands of the Japs they could play havoc with the American and British supply routes to India and to the Middle East which in turn feeds Russia. A fillip has been given to the hope of allied occupation by the fact that the Union of South Africa, the British dominion near Madagascar, has suddenly revived diplomatic relations with Vichy. The Union may have been assigned the job.

A glance at your maps will show how Madagascar dominates the shipping lane as it swings round the Cape of Good Hope and enters the Indian ocean. That fact is of vast importance. Because it isn't possible for ordinary shipping to pass through the Mediterranean and the Suez canal to the Persian gulf and India, all Britain's convoys have to make the long journey down 'round the tip of Africa and thence up into the Indian ocean. American ships for Indian ocean ports have to take this same route.

These shipping routes are priceless, since the allies must depend on them to hold the Middle East and India. The theatre comprising Syria, Iraq and Iran is, as I have previously pointed out, one of the most important strategically in the world. Allied domination is necessary to prevent Hitler from breaking down into the oil fields, and to keep him from uniting forces with the Japs.

Showdown Between

Murray in a letter the union probably would do some "housecleaning" at its October convention.

2. The miners continued to withhold per capita tax payments to the CIO, which Murray heads, while asking repayment of about $1,660,000 advanced to the CIO in its fledgling days when Lewis was its chief. The overdue per capita tax now totals about $60,000.

3. CIO officers replied with a dun for the per capita payments and declared that while "all workers throughout the nation owe a deep debt to the United Mine Workers of America, this debt cannot be measured in dollars". They expressed the opinion the mine workers "did not and do not consider" the money advanced for organization purposes as a debt to be repaid in dollars and cents.

Lewis Has Firing Power

The "housecleaning" suggestion was interpreted widely as a threat of expulsion from membership, inasmuch as the miners do not choose their officers at conventions. That is done by referendum, the next of which will be held in December. Moreover, Lewis has the constitutional power to remove Murray from his $18,000 a year job as vice president "for insubordination or just and sufficient cause".

United Mine Workers' sources already were speaking of John O'Leary of Pittsburgh as the next vice president.

After the AFL-CIO split four years ago AFL President William Green was cited by the miners' international executive board for "disloyal acts and continued opposition to the policies of the United Mine Workers". He did not appear for trial and was expelled for "aiding and abetting an organization dual in purpose and character to the United Mine Workers of America". Green subsequently became a member of the musicians' union.

Expulsion of Murray, authoritative sources agree, would mean an organic split between the United Mine Workers and the CIO, and hence a third labor movement. The affiliation is little more than nominal now.

Near Congress Showdown

Meanwhile, demands for a showdown on the 40-hour week and wartime restrictions on labor activities persisted in congress today with strong likelihood they would be pressed regardless of how President Roosevelt deals with the subject in his message next week.

With widely-varied proposals for labor legislation pending on a half dozen different fronts, belief strengthened on Capitol Hill that the chief executive, in his drive to stem the mounting cost of living, would.

1. Lay down a general war labor policy, but oppose changes in statutes outlining labor's rights with the argument that industrial harmony and maximum production could be achieved best through cooperation.

2. Take steps to prevent blanket wage increases—possibly by issuing a directive order to the War Labor Board—but leave open the possibility of individual pay boosts in and those made necessary by any further rise in living costs.

3. Stand firmly against suspension of the 40-hour week, maintaining it is not now limiting work hours in war industries and that elimination of time and one-half pay after 40 hours would be necessary widespread upward adjustment of regular wages.

The president's advisers were reported in disagreement on the wage stabilization program. One faction, headed by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, was said to have urged him to take advantage of a formula laid down in the price control bill and order government action toward leveling off wages as of a definite date, possibly January 30 when the bill was signed.

On the other hand, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau was represented as arguing that the wage question should be left to individual negotiations or collective bargaining contracts, a position labor leaders have taken.

President Hints at Second Tremendous War Program Soon

Declares War Production Is Working Out Satisfactorily Now

Washington, April 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt declared today that the war production program was working out extremely well and hinted that another program might be piled on top of the one which was called fantastic last January.

In his annual message to congress on January 6, the president set forth a schedule calling for a production in 1942 and 1943 of 185,000 planes, 120,000 tanks, 55,000 anti-aircraft guns and 18,000,000 tons of commercial shipping.

The intimation that these tremendous goals might be expanded to assure a United Nations victory came when he was asked at a press conference whether he thought steel plants now being built or expanded would raise capacity sufficiently to meet all requirements.

No, he replied, he couldn't say that because there might be another program by the time the expansions and new plants are completed.

The chief executive expressed a personal view that there still was too great civilian use of steel, but that War Production Board officials had taken a contrary position. He said that this is being checked on now.

To an inquiry as to whether anything was being done to "revitalize shipbuilding", Roosevelt said that everybody was working on that at the present time. Referring to the difficulty of obtaining enough steel, he added that you can't make bread without flour.

Ship Building Lags

He was informed that the ship construction program was regarded generally as the only portion of his January production plan which was lagging seriously behind.

And he was reminded that Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, defense shipping administrator, had testified on Capitol Hill that there was "too damned much loafing" in shipyards on the part of both labor and management.

The president commented that was a good burr under the tail of both management and labor. But, responding to further questioning, he advanced the view that probably a shortage of steel plates was more responsible than slow downs for the lag in the shipbuilding phase of the war effort.

He said he doubted that on the whole a great percentage of the slow down was due to loafing, although the percentage might be high in an individual yard. But there is a shortage of steel plates all over the country, he asserted. Roosevelt remarked that it must be remembered that both the Maritime Commission's program of building cargo vessels and the navy's program for constructing warships had been increased, resulting in a shortage of both steel shapes and plates.

Something Being Done

To a question on whether priorities were delaying the shipbuilding efforts—he was informed of complaints that others were getting the steel which shipyards wanted—the chief executive remarked that of course anybody who does not get what he wants shouts about priorities.

Something is being done, Roosevelt asserted, to increase the capacity of the steel industry, but he was unable to supply a definite figure on that. It takes about a year to build a new plant, he said.

He voiced the opinion that there was no great problem involved in scrap iron and steel. There is plenty now in this country, he asserted.

For example, Roosevelt said, if you ride along a railway you notice empty car sidings. The old rails for those sidings are not needed now, he said, because there are no empty freight cars to put on them. He said he had suggested that these rails be reclaimed.

—ROOSEVELT ESTATE—

Mrs. Roosevelt, the President's mother, left an estate of one million, one hundred and eighteen thousand three hundred and sixty-one dollars ($1,118,361.00) with expenses and taxes to be taken out of $86,920—President Roosevelt will receive 9/10 of the estate and the Hyde Park home.

BOYS IN THE SERVICE

LT. EDW. F. BALDWIN
Former Dixon boy, whose father, Major William E. Baldwin died in service during the War with Spain, has been called to service with the naval reserve, leaving his home in Houston, Tex. today.

Corp. William Pontius has been transferred to Headquarters, Officers' Candidates School, at Fort Francis Warren, Wyo.

Zale Zbinden, who left Dixon as a member of Co. A, 136th Infantry, has been transferred to the new 129th Infantry at Camp Forrest and has been promoted to sergeant of Co. A of that outfit.

Pfc. Lawrence L. Leydig has been transferred from Camp Forrest, Tullahoma, Tenn., to Fort Brady, Michigan. Sault Ste. Marie, with the 131st Inf. Medics.

Crawford Coleman, youngest son of Mrs. (Aunt Jennie) Coleman of Kings Court, this city, is now stationed at Camp Custer, Mich., where he entered training the first of the week. Mrs. Coleman's eldest son, Harry Coleman, served as a machine gunner in the Buffalo division in World War I.

Private Wilbur Schick, formerly of Dixon, is one of the soldiers stationed at Will Rogers Field near Oklahoma City, Okla. where he is attached to the army air force bombardment base. Pvt. Schick has been assigned to the finance department of an air base group. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. August W. Schick of Dixon and before entering service, he was a student at the University of Illinois. Previous to coming to Will Rogers field on April 16, he was on duty at Camp Robinson.

ers' occupational tax from the ballot in November."

A constitutional amendment, under which the legislature would be authorized to revise the sales tax act so as to exempt foods, will be submitted to a statewide referendum in connection with the November general election. Green has publicly announced his intention to campaign for adoption of the amendment.

Other resolutions adopted by the federation urged that the federal government permit "all possible production" of civilian goods consistent with the war program, opposed the exemption of war purchases from state sales taxes, and favored closer restrictions against non-military sales in army canteens.

Chiropractic Clinic and Spa in Dixon to Be Opened Tomorrow

Dr. S. Chandler Bend's Health Institution Is Most Complete

When the doors of Dr. S. Chandler Bend's Chiropractic Clinic and Spa swing wide in formal opening tomorrow and Sunday at 511 West First street, the new ultra modern center will stand ready to administer modern health treatments in what is believed to be the only all-Chiropractic institution of its kind in Illinois, and perhaps several states beyond. The clinic is expected to become a physio-therapy center for all physicians in this area.

From its comfortable reception room at the entrance, throughout the completely-equipped 34 additional rooms, the entire clinic is conveniently divided into hospital, office and chiropractic adjusting rooms, a beautiful Chirodine, and a spa, bath, and physio-therapy department.

The spa offers electro-vaporized mineral baths, a new department in scientific treatment; Hubbard submersion baths, a generally-accepted treatment for paralytic cases; and needle point baths, pine needle vapor spray baths, with complete shower facilities.

Former Hotel Building

Dixon's new clinic and spa is located in the building formerly known as the Parkside Hotel. Dr. Bend purchased the hotel last July, and complete remodeling began soon afterward. During the past year, patients from 11 states have sought and received treatment, and a rapidly-expanding demand for advanced research work led the Dixon chiropractor to establish the new center. He regards one of his most outstanding successes during that period, restoration of the ability to walk for a 17-year-old girl from South Dakota.

The Chirodine, established primarily for resident patients, has a capacity for serving 50 persons. The dining room is open daily from 7 a. m. to 8 p. m., and from 12 noon until 7 p. m. on Sundays. The rooms are finished attractively throughout in natural pine, and every effort has been made to make the center as comfortable and scientific as possible.

Hold Two Degrees

Dr. Bend, who holds both D. C. and Ph. C. degrees in his profession, heads the staff of his new clinic. Assisting him are Dr. H. Kathryn Slaats, D. C., X-ray technician; Mrs. Bernice Bend, D. C., who is in charge of the children's clinic; Orville G. Olson, graduate Swedish masseur and physio-therapist, and his assistant, Mrs. Orville G. Olson; and Miss Florence Kretzer, secretary. Mrs. Myrtle Bates is cateress for the Chirodine.

In boyhood, Dr. Bend became imbued with the determination to become a chiropractor, an ambition encouraged by his grandmother, Mrs. Emaline Allen, whose eldest daughter had found restoration of a paralyzed arm in chiropractic.

He received his early schooling in Dixon, and was graduated from Paw Paw high school. He was later graduated from the Palmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport, of which Mrs. Bend and Dr. Slaats are also alumnae.

Lloyd W. Walter, D. D., pastor. Second Sunday after Easter: The early worship of the church held every Sunday at 8:00 a. m. The Girls' choir will sing special numbers and lead the congregation in the hymns.

9:30 a. m. is the hour for the Bible school session. Two of our young men who were faithful teachers have been called into their country's service. Very fortunately we have been able to get capable substitutes.

Regular divine worship is held at 10:45 a. m. The Senior choir sings at this service which is more elaborate than the early worship.

6:00 p. m., the Intermediate Luther League meets. Donna Dogwiler will be the leader. We would like all the members to be present to help plan for the summer outings. Topic for the evening is "Questions Christ Asked and Asks."

Wednesday, 7:30, the Senior Luther League meets at the church. Plans were discussed at the last meeting to hold our next session in the park. The secretary, Bob Heckman, was asked to call all members to the Wednesday night meeting to perfect the plans for the park meetings.

Frances Jones is the leader. Topic: "After High School—What?"

Crawford Thomas will preside at the organ and will play the following special numbers: "Grand Choeur In C", (Maitland); "Hymn of Nuns", (Lefebure-Wely); and "March Romaine", (Gounod).

A nursery for the care of little children of parents attending this service will be conducted by Mrs. Gertrude Sworn and Miss Frances Crowley.

6:45 p. m., The Epworth League for young people of all ages. An especially interesting evening is being planned.

Methodist events next week: The Shawnee class will hold its monthly meeting at the church on Tuesday evening beginning with a scramble supper at 6:45 o'clock. The husbands and friends of the class members are included and an evening of real fun is planned.

The Senior choir will enjoy a bowling party following the regular rehearsal next Wednesday evening. All members and prospective members are urged to come.

Mrs. Alice Beede is entertaining the members of the Treble Clef choir at her home on next Thursday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Presidential Message on Inflation Monday?

Washington, April 24—(AP)—The White House gave a fairly definite indication Thursday that President Roosevelt's anti-inflation message to congress would be sent up on Monday but that a fireside radio address on the same subject would be deferred to some other day.

Presidential Secretary Stephen Early said that "the president was really getting under way today" in drafting the message and that he wouldn't be surprised if it went to congress on Monday, in line with hopes Roosevelt had expressed to congressional leaders. While adding that the fireside chat would come on a subsequent day, Early said he could not mention a specific date.

OUR ERROR . . . in yesterday's account of daily hodge-podge we had the individual bowling wreaths from the Classic League spread around in the wrong direction . . . it was Frank Daschbach who rolled the high game for the evening with a 245 . . . Walt Klein had the best evening series with a 632 and Larry Poole followed with his series of 626 . . .

AT IT AGAIN . . . this foursome set of golfers . . . Myers . . . Vroegindewey . . . Bovey . . . and Campbell . . . had so much fun the other day that they were at it again yesterday out at the Plum Hollow Golf Course . . . then to make it complete just as it was the other day . . . the gals joined them . . . Mrs. Lyle Myers . . . Mrs. Clarence Vroegindewey . . . Leone Kreim . . . and Betty Haines . . . and they concluded the golf match with a steak fry around the club house fireplace . . .

OPEN BOWLING . . . most of the bowling leagues are all over now and most of them provided real interest during the season with their spirited competition . . . we've been asked by several bowlers whether or not the Recreation alleys are now available for individual bowling . . . there are only two leagues remaining to be played off . . . the Ladies Bowling League finishes its final frame Monday night and the Ladies' Afternoon League has two more Wednesday sessions . . . at all other times from hereon the alleys will be open for individual bowling . . . tonight the Recreation has planned some mixed double matches with a repeat for next Tuesday . . . so if any of you guys and gals want in on this get your reservation now so you won't be left off the list when the couples start their kegging parties . . .

PLUM HOLLOW SLICES . . . what with spring fever in the air and that exhilarating meadow brook urge we're not at all surprised to see so many golfers out these days enjoying romps up and down the hills and following that little white pill around . . . the Plum Hollow course commanded a goodly number of golfing fans yesterday . . . it was the weekly banker and barber holiday yesterday and Danny Strube and Leo Miller were making the most of it . . . Danny went the round in a 48 and Leo turned in a 45 . . . Frank Lessner was out limbering up the old driving punch . . . Em Rorer went a round with a couple of Duke varsity golfers . . . George Todor . . . and Donnie Bowers . . . following them around were two other Duke varsity members . . . Paul Reynolds . . . and Bryce Hubbard . . . Oscar Witzleb was scouting around for competition but it wasn't so easily found . . . since Oscar carded a 36 the other day . . . we saw Dick Hartley drive a nice one to the No. 1 green . . . a couple of gals turned up to go rounds before the sun retired for the day . . . Sadie Brant and Mrs. Wally Hicks . . .

BOWLING MATCH . . . the Lincoln Lanes bowling quintet took on the Oliver Lee Center keggers yesterday eve out at the lanes and sent the Centerites home with a defeat . . . the Lanes defeated the Oliver team 2616 to 2170 . . . Joe Miller really heated the maples as he led the Lanes outfit with a series of 610 which was high for th match . . . Joe's individual game of 222 was also high for the match . . . individual scoring . . . Lanes . . . Schroeder 558 . . . Long 513 . . . Austin 450 . . . Hackett 485 . . . Miller 610 . . . Lee Center . . . John 431 . . . Finch 392 . . . Riley 419 . . . Carlson 433 . . . Abel 495 . . .

COUNTRY CLUB . . . a few of the town's leading tournament golfers were out loosening the kinks and sharpening their driving eyes yesterday on the Country Club Course . . . Ken Detweiler . . . Eldon "PeeWee" Myers . . . Ray Wilbur . . . and Wilson Dysart . . . Dr. Lazier put in a later appearance and got in a few good links . . . any day now the club's pro, Ralph Stonehouse should put in his appearance preparatory to the opening of the regular season . . . the Country Club will have its official opening on Friday, May 1.

LAUNCHY . . . the Beck family of Grand Detour were all taken up the day before yesterday putting their boat the "Becky" on water for the first time this season . . . they launched the "Becky" on Rock River at Grand Detour . . .

COME AND GET 'EM . . . most of the prize checks have been handed to the various winners in the bowling leagues at the Recreation alleys . . . but a few of them remain and they're all made out . . . those of you who haven't as yet received your check should stop by the Recreation and get it now . . .

ENVOIUS . . . a few of the boys around town who are on furloughs from armed service are awaiting their being called to training as Army Air Cadets . . . and just think these are paid vacations . . . but they deserve every bit of it . . . nevertheless some of the fans around the drag are a bit envious, especially in this kind of weather . . . the boys waiting their calls are . . . "Shorty" Bush . . . Bob Miller . . . and Phil Watts . . .

WOE IS US! . . . "Butinsky" Rish is in again . . . he's Dixon's official "butinsky" No. 2 (we're No. 1 and we resent his taking a crack at us today) . . . so we're going to take it up with the county authorities to levy a bounty to be paid on the heads of any and all "Mad" Russians . . . we thank him for at least not nominating us as a candidate for a dive off the Glena Ave. bridge . . . here's the latest . . .

Dere John—I hev ben sew busy lately that I haven't had time to keep up with my correspondence, butt I herd a story the other day that I thot you mite set me strait on. Is it true that the F. B. White Holds Sox To Five Hits; Tigers Crack Lyons For 16

Detroit, April 23—(AP)—Rookie Hal White of the Detroit Tigers pitched his second successive American league shutout today by limiting the Chicago White Sox to five scattered hits for a 9 to 0 triumph. The 23-year-old righthander, up from Buffalo of the International league, permitted no Chicagoan to reach third base.

The veteran Ted Lyons, starting his 20th season with Chicago, meanwhile was blasted for 16 safeties including Ned Harris' second home run of the season. Jimmy Bloodworth, Detroit acquisition from Washington who is batting under .200, sent two runs across with his lone single for nine runs batted in this year, near the league lead. Box score:

Body of Chicago Wife

Murderer Is Recovered From Lake by Police

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Police recovered from Lake Michigan last night the body of Owen Bradford, about 60, who was sought for the fatal shooting of his estranged wife.

The body was identified by Donald Davenport, a grandson. Police said that shortly before they recovered the body, Nelson Hoag saw Bradford shoot himself on the end of the North Avenue pier and topple into the lake.

Bradford's wife, Isabelle, 63, was shot to death Wednesday on the steps leading to her apartment on the north side. A coroner's jury recommended that Bradford be held to the grand jury for the killing after hearing C. W. Lunquist, janitor, testify he saw Bradford flee after he had heard five shots.

A JAP BULLET

Honolulu—(AP)—Dean Grant Darrow, of the Navy, thought he had been stung in the back by an unusually large bee. Later, when he underwent an appendicitis operation, physicians looked him over and found that a .25 caliber Japanese bullet had entered his heart muscle.

Texas Athletes Eye Old Records at the Drake Relays Today

Des Moines, Ia., April 24—(AP)—Four ambitious University of Texas speedsters had world records ideas at the Drake Relays today.

The quartet—Capt. Harry Harterick, Max Minor, Gene Wiren and Max Umstadt—sought to erase the 3:23.2 sprint medley world mark established by another Texas team here a year ago.

Umstadt, the anchor man, appeared here in 1941, but the others are new members of the Longhorn team.

Eight other finals in the University and College divisions and a host of preliminaries were on today's program.

Finals for the boys seeking individual glory were the two mile run, featuring Oliver Hunter, Notre Dame's defending champion; the broad jump and the discus.

Lee Farmer of Iowa, Western Conference indoor titleholder; Bill Christopher, Rice Institute's Texas Relays king, and Ralph Tate of Oklahoma A. & M., winner at the Kansas games, were prominently mentioned in the broad jump.

Bob Fitch, the Minnesota husky, had top billing in the discus. Illinois, believed capable of 10:16 or better, and Oklahoma were ranked as the leading challengers in the University distance medley. Wisconsin holds the Drake record at 10:06.1.

Knox Enters Beloit Relays With 37 Men

Beloit, Wis., April—Louis E. Means, director of the sixth annual Beloit relays at Beloit college May 1, has received the largest entry list ever sent to the relays by any college from Knox.

Coach Bud Sanderson of Knox will bring 37 men and is aiming at the team championship. The squad has entered 17 of the 19 events on the relays card.

Included in the Siwash delegation will be Chuck Heller, second on the broad jump last year, fourth in the javelin last year, Jerry Lemon, weight man, and Paul Swise, sprinter.

Means also reported that Cornell college is sending its largest group to the relays. Although they placed only second last year, they will be one of the outstanding contenders for the team title due to several speedy sophomores.

Dave Clutterham, one of the best milers in the nation, will lead the Cornell team and will anchor the distance medley relay team that set a new record at the Kansas relays recently. Consisting entirely of sophomores, this group set also a new mark in the freshman distance medley at the Beloit Relays last year.

Other outstanding members of the 26-men squad from Cornell, where Glenn Cunningham is athletic director, are Lowell Reid, Sam Johnson, Vince Wilson, all distance runners, and Dick Houden, sprinter.

Bradley tech is also one of the strong early entries received by Means. Coach C. M. Hewitt will bring Paul McCall, who set a new shot put record last year, along with a squad of ten men. As usual, Bradley will be strongest in the weights and will also enter Ray Ramsey in the high jump at which he has been leaping over six feet this season.

Savanna, Ill. Man Is Held on Drunk Driver Charge in Platteville

Platteville, Wis., April 24—(AP)—William H. Wertheim, 59, of Savanna, Ill., was ordered to appear in court here today on charges of drunken driving in connection with the traffic death of Donald Van Atta, 8, of Platteville.

Sheriff Joe R. Greet said that after Wertheim's automobile yesterday struck the Van Atta boy, who was walking alongside the highway at the outskirts of the city, Wertheim took the child to a hospital, where he died.

Greet said Wertheim had been arrested in Fennimore, Wis., 25 miles from here, several hours before the accident and fined $50 on another drunken driving charge.

The inquest into the child's death will be held Saturday at 2 p. m.

WIN WIFE DIVORCE

Hacksack, N. J.—(AP)—Mrs. Anna Buonomo won her divorce case after testifying that her husband struck her when she refused to believe in her mother-in-law's tales of witchcraft. She testified her husband, John, insisted he had shrunk three inches on his 21st birthday because his mother said so.

URGED COEDS TAKE MATH

Berkeley, Calif.—(AP)—Encouragement of coeds to enroll in mathematics courses is an aspect of war effort at the University of California. "Women who know trigonometry can find jobs readily in war industries," says Dean Elmer E. Goldsworthy.

Novikoff Aids the Cubs to Victory By His Home Run Blast

Chicago, April 23—(AP)—Lou Novikoff, the celebrated mad Russian, opened the Chicago sixth inning with a home run today to bring the Cubs a 2-1 decision over the St. Louis Cardinals before a paid crowd of 7,553 and 200 service men.

Novikoff's blast enabled Big Bill Lee to forge his second pitching victory of the campaign. Lee held the Cards to seven hits but was forced to operate with St. Louis runners on the bases in all but the sixth and eighth innings.

The Cubs also made only seven hits, all off Max Lanier who was removed for a pinch hitter in the eighth, but bunched three of them in the fifth for the tying run after the Cards had scored a tally in the third.

The Cubs caught up two frames later on singles by Chico Hernandez, Lee and Len Murillo, and then won in the next inning on Novikoff's homer. Box score:

NORTHWESTERN UNBEATEN IN BIG 10; FACES IOWA

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Northwestern, only unbeaten team among the seven members of the Big Ten which have already started Conference baseball play, faced the threat of Iowa's Hawkeyes in week end games today and tomorrow.

The hard-hitting Wildcats, who beat Chicago in two contests last week, were host to the Hawkeyes, tied for second place with Illinois. Northwestern's team batting mark is .337.

Chicago went to Champaign for a scheduled pair with the Illini, who like Iowa have won three out of four league games. Michigan prepared for its Big Ten opening against Purdue at Ann Arbor and Ohio State was due to bow into the race against Indiana at Columbus.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR., Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, April 24—One result of the gas shortage, according to folks who run sporting camps up north, will be increased popularity of canoe camping trips . . . and we'll guarantee that if you paddle a canoe a dozen miles against a head wind, lug it and your camp equipment across a couple of portages and sleep on the ground a few nights, you won't need any obstacle courses to toughen you up . . . One suggestion for conserving golf balls is for the U. S. G. A. to eliminate rule 24, which forbids switching balls on the green. That would let duffers hack at old pellets in the rough, then change to a good one for putting . . . Now will all you guys who ever heard of rule 24 raise your hands?

Sportpourri

Lou Nova, who now wants a summer scrap with Bob Pastor as a reward for fighting Lee Savold instead of Abe Simon on the Washington Navy relief card, was knocked flat by a right cross delivered by 300-pound Blimp Williams during a recent training tilt on the west coast . . . Lou was so embarrassed that he addressed the 10 cent patrons in the gym: "To think I fought the greatest in the east and this has to happen to me here" . . . Derby tip (maybe): Trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons recently wired Track Superintendent Tom Young at Church Downs: "Expect to see roses on Apache Derby day" . . . Maybe Jim was just hinting that horses can blush.

Today's Guest Star

Bob Stedler, Buffalo Evening News: "Max Schmeling is to return to the ring. One way to settle this war would be to put him in the ring with Joe Louis. But that would be akin to murder, and after all this country is still humane and honorable."

Odd—And Some Ends

It may be just the influence of all that publicity the scribes gave New Hampshire's Boo Morcom last winter, but high jumpers Emmett Welch of Marquette and Bill Bessie of Columbia are wearing only one shoe each in track meets this spring. They claim they get better results that way . . . Boot and Spur, a Kentucky Derby candidate, refused to run yesterday because his jockey had forgotten a whip. Why didn't he use part of the nag's name?

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Steffen were their son, Dick, a freshman at the Illinois University and Mrs. Christina Huss, mother of Mrs. Steffen.

The annual mother and daughter banquet sponsored by the Mount Morris Council of Churches will be held at the Church of the Brethren, Wednesday, May 6, at 6 p. m. Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Ray Blecker, Mrs. Leroy Dohlen, Mrs. Fred Steffen or Miss Jane Wynard and reservations must be made by Saturday, May 2. Mrs. L. G. Schaar will be the toastmistress for the occasion. Mrs. John Thomas will give the toast to the daughters and Miss Helen Carney will respond with a toast to the mothers. Mrs. George Priller will give a short talk and Miss Jo An Thomson will entertain with a reading. A trio composed of the Misses Fern Thomas, Jean Davison and Dorothy Silvis will sing and there will be solos by Miss Marjorie Elliott and Mrs. Ruby Smith.

The days of May 4, 5, 6 and 7 have been set aside for consumer registration in connection with the rationing of sugar. All persons residing in the grade school district will register at the local grade school. Detailed plans relative to this registration will appear in these columns next week. Any person who is in a position to volunteer their services in assisting in this registration work is asked to call the grade school office Phone 208. This will be the largest registration of the civilian population ever attempted in the United States and many volunteers will be needed to augment the grade school staff in this registration work.

The Blackhawk grange will meet Friday evening. A program will be presented and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lanning. Mr. and Mrs. Leo McMullen and Mr. and Mrs. Gene McMullen will entertain.

The annual grade school board and faculty picnic was held on Thursday evening of this week at the beautiful Pine Creek park located on the Harold Ross farm. More than thirty people sat down to a delicious picnic lunch prepared by a committee from the school board and faculty. As a feature of the evening the members of the board presented to Harold Ross a beautiful framed certificate of appreciation in recognition of the fifteen years of service on the board. The presentation was made by Harold Knodle who summarized the many years of constructive leadership given to the school by Mr. Ross during his fifteen years of service. Mr. Ross also received a letter of appreciation from the members of the grade school staff who probably realize more than any other one group the many sacrifices made by people who serve the children of the community on its board of education. The entire community joins the school board and the grade school staff in extending to Mr. Ross a real vote of thanks and congratulations for a job well done.

"Muster Day" Is Observed by Vets of War with Spain

By S. M. HINDS
Historian, William E. Baldwin Camp, No. 23, U. S. W. V., Dixon, Ill.
The members and auxiliary of William E. Baldwin Camp, No. 23, U. S. W. V., Department of Illinois, appropriately observed Muster Day Tuesday evening in the G. A. R. hall, where a large attendance greeted the presence of Col. and Mrs. L. B. Boylan of Chicago. Col. Boylan, who is Department Commander, made a stirring appeal to all present, for an all out effort for victory in the present conflict.

Capt. J. M. Brady, a veteran of World War I and commander of Co. A, Ill. Reserve Militia, gave an interesting talk on the present war and described the evolution of the implements of war from the sling (sling-shot) of Biblical times to our modern weapons of the present day. April 21st was the 44th anniversary of the declaration of war by the United States against the Kingdom of Spain. The day was celebrated as Muster Day by the United Spanish war veterans. At all meetings of local camps held nearest to April 21, members of that organization of men who volunteered to serve their country forty and more years ago are raising their right hands to renew their pledge of fealty to the nation.

The day is historic in the annals of organization events. This is the second occasion since the days of their own service that the men who fought for their country in 1898-1902 are making their pledge just after this government has declared another war. On April 21, 1917, the Spanish War veterans were in the prime of their lives. Their average age was only 43 years and many of them were able to do the uniform again. Indeed they composed the framework around which was built the armies which defeated the German hordes a year and a half later.

Some Still in Service
On April 21 1942, a little over four months after Pearl Harbor, the veterans of the Spanish war period were 68 years of age, on the average, and no longer physically able to take their places in the ranks. True, there are still in the service a few high-ranking officers who came up from '98 and another very few have been accepted again for service because of their skills. Others are in high places in civilian service but, by and large, the present conflict will be fought to its conclusion without those enthusiastic Americans who left their homes so long ago to volunteer for duty against another foe.

Discovery that they are too old to fight has caused mental disquietude to many of these former warriors, yet in greater numbers than ever they are wearing their medals and decorations and appeared this Muster Day before flag-draped altars in their meeting rooms. There, in the presence of Almighty God and of their comrades, they earnestly repeated the oath of allegiance which they took upon entering service nearly a half century ago.

The war was fought entirely by volunteers, and in all of America's history there are no brighter pages of heroic sacrifice than those that tell of the uncompending heroism of the youths, now gray-haired men, who so nobly answered the call to arms by President McKinley.

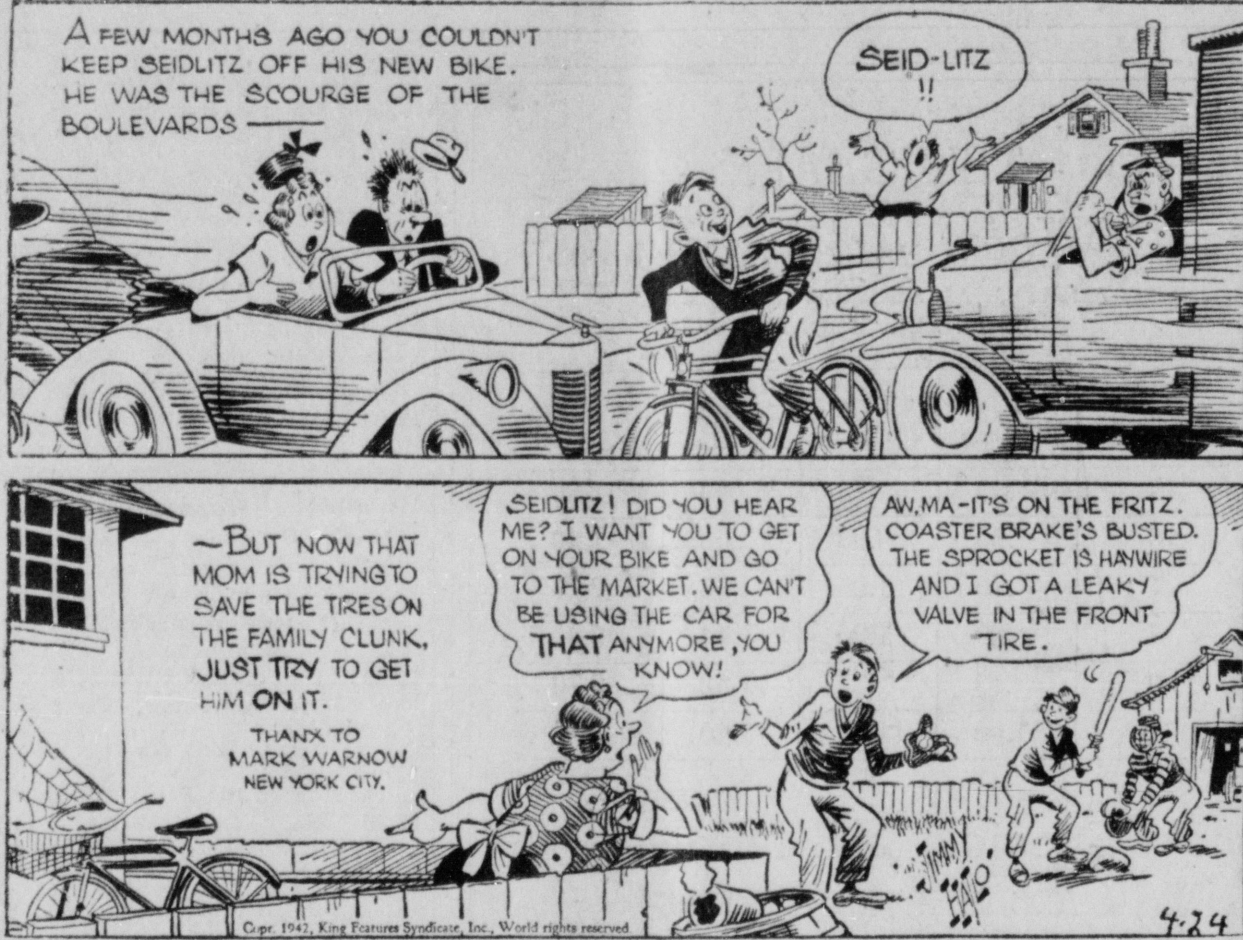

The Spanish war veterans have implicit faith in their younger comrades, now engaged in the greatest struggle of all time. As the "boys of '98" achieved victory for their country's cause, so will the nation's armed forces in the present crisis bring us victory, and we hope, a permanent peace. Pearl Harbor shall be avenged.

NEGRO SENTENCED
Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Judge Stanley Karkowski convicted Jay R. Riney, 23-year-old negro, on charges of assaulting a storekeeper with a brick in an attempted holdup and striking down a 12-year-old girl in the store, and sentenced him to serve concurrently two 8 to 10 year terms in prison.

2 Ways Listed to Curb Cutworms in Victory Gardens

There are two ways to prevent cutworms from cutting up in the garden—poison the worms or barricade the plants—victory gardeners were advised today by H. B. Petty, extension entomologist of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

"Remember that cutworms are night workers and that they are most likely to bother victory gardens where sod or crop refuse has been recently," Petty said. "Remember also that cutworms have done the dirty work if the plants are cut off completely above or below the ground."

Here are Petty's recommendations, either of which may be used satisfactorily: Spread Paris green mixed with bran and moistened with lubricating oil (SAE 20) thinly over the ground after sunset. Do this before setting out tomato or cabbage plants, or before planting sweet corn.

Two types of barricades can be made with waste materials. In the first method, any old No. 2 can will do. First, cut the bottom out of it. Then shove it firmly into the ground around the plant, half under and half above ground. The cutworm then can't get to the plant. The can may be left in place indefinitely or removed in about three weeks. The other barricade method is to make a roll of paper or cardboard and place this around the plant so a collar protects the plant and enough of the paper is still below the ground to act as a foundation.

More information about controlling cutworms is available in Circular No. 514, which may be obtained free from farm advisers, the University or Illinois State Natural History Survey.

WIDOW GETS $2,573.65
Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Final accounting in Probate court showed a balance of $2,573.65 left to the widow of Charles S. Deaneen, former governor and U. S. Senator from Illinois, after disbursements from the estate amounting to $24,144.36.

Deaneen died in February, 1940, at the age of 77. He served eight years as governor, eight as state's attorney and six as U. S. Senator.

Three Medusa Employees Receive Gold Watches

Many officials of the Medusa Cement Co. of Cleveland, Ohio, arrived in Dixon Wednesday and Thursday to be present at the annual inspection of the company's mills east of the city, and to attend the annual employees' banquet at 6:30 at the Brinton Memorial Masonic Temple at which three employees of the Dixon plant received gold watches for 25 years of service in the company's employ, as follows: John Jurechka, Paul Sereg, Jr., and George Barnhart.

President J. B. John, General Superintendent W. J. Worth and Treasurer P. G. Dawson, arrived Wednesday with a number of other officials from the head offices at Cleveland. L. E. DeCamp of the sales department in Chicago and Walter Bray, silo superintendent from the Chicago offices came Thursday afternoon to attend the banquet which was followed by an address by President John.

Says Nation Must Be Kept Safe for Its Differences

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Dr. Everett R. Clinchy, chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews of New York, says "we want the kind of unity that will permit differences" and "we need to make America safe for differences."

In an address before the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers last night, he expressed the hope that the current school generation would be trained to be "religiously literate" and tolerant of minority views and customs.

The job of immunizing a generation of Americans against hate can be accomplished through accurate information, promotion of "good neighborliness" and example, he added.

"America is a nation teeming with nations," he said, "persons of 46 different old world nationalities live together as American citizens."

"Then, too, America is a land of many religious groups. "The United States of America desires national unity above all things at this particular time. The question is, can we permit differences to continue? "The answer as I see it is: Yes, we must. We do not want the kind of unity that is uniformity. x x x x

"Our differences can be assets. They can be made to integrate with one another as spokes in a wheel, and the various groups can be made to work together as musicians in a symphony orchestra learn to play together."

Crusaders Planning Big Party This Evening

Dixon chapter of the Chiropractic Crusaders association have been completing arrangements the past two days for a birthday party to be held at 8 o'clock this evening in the American Legion hall, honoring the anniversary of Dr. H. Kathryn Slaats. This evening's event is to usher in a three-day celebration, in recognition of the grand opening of Dr. S. Chandler Bend's Chiropractic Clinic and Spa.

Many guests from out of the state, as well as Illinoisans, will be here for the three-day program. Cash Asher of Davenport, Iowa is to be the speaker on Sunday.

An entertaining musical program will be presented at Dr. Slaats' celebration. Guests having April anniversaries will be seated with the guest of honor at a long birthday banquet table. Birthday cake will be served in honor of the occasion.

Dixon chapter of the Crusaders' association is a philanthropic organization, whose accomplishments include sponsorship of two college students.

New Archbishop of Canterbury Installed

Canterbury, England, April 24—(AP)—In a solemn ceremony which had its origin centuries ago, Dr. William Temple was installed Thursday as Archbishop of Canterbury and "Primate of All England" while 45 bishops, including one from the United States, stood by in sand-bagged, bomb pocked Canterbury cathedral.

"If the Christian movement and all hopes connected with it" are to prevail, the axis must be defeated, the new archbishop declared, as sunlight streamed through the beautiful stained glass windows which bear the mark of Hitler's bombs.

Illinois' Deferred Men Urged to Join State Home Guard

Chicago, April 24—(AP)—Declaring it to be "the patriotic duty of every man to aid in this war on the axis nations", Illinois' Adjutant General appeals to those who are deferred under the selective service law to do their part by enlisting in the reserve militia.

Brig. Gen. Leo M. Boyle, appearing on a WGN radio program last night honoring the Illinois state militia, explained that all men between the ages of 18 and 56 were eligible.

He said "Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, director of selective service in Illinois, and members of the 361 local draft boards are assisting in the recruiting program of the militia."

He said the militia numbered more than 7,000 officers and enlisted men and that nearly 2,000 had seen active service in various parts of the state since the declaration of war.

Governor Green, appearing on the same program in the role of an actor in the dramatization of the inception and growth of the home guards in the United States, said at the conclusion:

"In a nation where every man is free to possess a gun and encouraged to learn how to use it and respect it, the state militia has had a record of quiet vigil at home, of battles won abroad, of invasion repelled, fifth column activity checked, industrial disorder quelled—all the manly tasks the regular army is too busy to attend to in time of war."

Total retail sales in the U. S. in 1941 reached a record high of $53 billion, representing an increase of 17 per cent over 1940 and 11 per cent over the previous mark established in 1929.

Army Working in Radio Detecting Devices on All Threatened Coasts

Washington, April 23—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson reported today the army was "working very hard" to build and place all along the coasts radio detector devices which he said could signal the presence of hostile ships and planes more than 100 miles away.

Telling of an inspection trip he made Saturday to Fort Monmouth, N. J., and nearby areas, Stimson said army officers using the secret instruments at a station on the coast "picked up and showed me an approaching plane 60 miles away."

At the Fort Monmouth signal corps training center, the secretary said, intense study is being given to the wave echoes of radio as applied to the electric eye, which he said can see 100 miles or more and warn of danger.
